

New CPT Code for endovascular arteriovenous fistula (endoAVF) creation

Effective: January 1, 2023

CPT Code: 36837

Code Description:

Percutaneous arteriovenous fistula creation, upper extremity, separate access sites of the peripheral artery and peripheral vein, including fistula maturation procedures (e.g., transluminal balloon angioplasty, coil embolization) when performed, including all vascular access, imaging guidance and radiologic supervision and interpretation.

Reimbursement*		Status Indicator
Hospital Outpatient:	$17,178 (APC 5194)	J1
Ambulatory Surgical Center:	$11,453 (Device Intensive Procedure)	J8
Physician Office (OBL):	$9,888	A
Professional Fee:	$447	A
Total Non-Facility RVUs	299.09
Total Facility RVUs	13.53
Global Period	000

Definitions: APC = Ambulatory Payment Classification, J1 = Paid under OPPS; all covered part B services on the claim are packaged with the primary “J1” service for the claim, except services with OPPS status indicator of “F”, “G”, “H”, “L”, and “U”; ambulance services, diagnostic and screen mammography, rehabilitation therapy services, services assigned to a new technology services, services assigned to a new technology APC, self-administered drugs, all preventive services, and certain part B inpatient services, J8 = Device-intensive procedure; paid at adjusted rate, A = Active Code, 000 = zero day post-operative period

*National Average Rate

Disclaimer: Becton, Dickinson and Company does not guarantee that the use of any code will ensure coverage or payment at any particular level. Medicare, Medicaid or other payers may implement policies differently in various sections of the country. Physicians and hospitals should confirm with a particular payer or coding authority, such as the American Medical Association or medical specialty society, which codes or combinations of codes are appropriate for a particular procedure or combination of procedures. Reimbursement for a product or procedure can be different depending upon the setting in which the product is used. Coverage and payment policies can also change over time making the information provided herein obsolete.